April, 2022

Greetings from the President

Dear Friends,

We are very excited to resume FOSFTL-sponsored programming at the library, with two fabulous author events and a delightful piano recital now on the calendar. We hope to see many familiar friendly faces at these programs, and, as always, we love having new faces in the mix! We will continue to offer Priority Access registration to current Friends.

We were happy to display the student art work from Sherrills Ford Elementary School during March. This was the third and final student art show for the year, and it was quite impressive! (See page 4)

Believe it or not, our various committees are already turning their attention to the 2022/23 program year. We will be reviewing proposed plans and budgets at our April 19th business meeting, before sending them off to our Board of Directors and then putting them to a membership vote at our June annual meeting. Of course, these ambitious plans can only come to fruition if we have volunteers to oversee them. Some immediate needs include:

We need someone to coordinate our second grade Literacy program. Meg Thompson, who has headed up this program for many years and created a well-oiled system, will be retiring from her post at the end of June. She is happy to work with the new coordinator to allow for a easy transition. (See page 6)

We are forming a new committee focused on the adorable Friendly Krafts 4 Kids kits that Sue Green has been creating on an ad-hoc (and self-funded) basis. This will now become a regular offering by the Friends throughout the year, with its own budget. Volunteers will select books and design/produce the companion activity kits. What a fun way for our crafty members to contribute to our efforts aimed at encouraging child literacy. (See page 5)

Our Program Committee has compiled a preliminary list of diverse programs for 2022/23, starting with a seasonally-appropriate "Spooky Stories" storyteller event in October. Committee Chair Stephanie Roberts is looking for some new folks to join this popular committee. (See Page 7)

The Holiday Events Committee is in need of a new committee chair (or co-chairs).

April also marks the start of our membership drive for the 2022/23 program. Please renew your membership between now and June 30, and spread the word to non-members about all the good work the Friends does to support our local library. Liking us on Facebook and following us on Instagram are simple ways to broaden our reach.

Warmly, Jeanne

Authors Ashley Oliphant and Beth Yarbrough Answer a Centuries-old Riddle: Did the Pirate Jean Laffite Live Out His “Retirement” In Their Hometown of Lincolnton, NC?

Beth Yarbrough

On March 28th, the book Jean Laffite Revealed: Unraveling One of America’s Longest-Running Mysteries answered the question! The Community Room was packed for our Authors’ Program and no one was disappointed in the presentation. Copies of the book were available for purchase, complete with dedications by two determined sleuths!

Both a suspense-filled thriller and a scholarly work, the volume takes a fresh look at the various myths and legends surrounding one of the last great pirates. Beginning in 1805, the book traces Laffite through his rise to power as a privateer and smuggler in the Gulf, his involvement in the Battle of New Orleans, his flight to Texas, and his eventual “disappearance” in the waters of the Caribbean. Laffite had enemies, of course, so with the help of some friends, he hid away in Cuba after his faked death (in the 1820’s). With stunning revelations, this book picks up the trail from there—a trail that no one knew existed until now.

While on a family vacation to the Gulf (of Mexico), the mother-daughter team, (one an architectural historian, the other an English professor), began their inquiries into Lafitte’s shadowy career as a pirate, a smuggler, and the overlord of an entire criminal organization in Louisiana. Along the way, he accumulated a fortune, was pardoned by President James

The grave of Lorendzo (sic) Ferrer in St. Luke’s Churchyard cemetery. Was Ferrer really Lafitte?

Madison for his aid to Andrew Jackson at the Battle of New Orleans, and served as a spy for the Spanish during the Mexican War of Independence.

In the early 1830s, he made his way back to the states during the cotton boom and settled down in Mississippi under the new name Lorenzo Ferrer.

According to the authors, Laffite became friends with the Henderson

Anonymous portrait of Jean Laffite, early 19th century.

Family, who ultimately convinced him to come and live in Lincolnton.

The Loren(d)zo Ferrer in the Lincolnton grave died in 1875, at the age of 96. Was he the pirate?

Over two years, the authors' researches took them from hometown Lincolnton, through various dusty Southern basements with moldy records, to the rarified air of the Princeton University Library. But then they found the final piece of evidence right at home—in the Masonic Lodge in Lincolnton. SPOILER

ALERT: READ NO FURTHER, MATIES, IF YOU WANT TO PRESERVE THE SUSPENSE!!

An old sword that had been “hanging around” the Lodge for years had never been closely examined. No one remembered just why it had been preserved, but when Oliphant and Yarbrough raised questions about the men who had founded the Lodge, it was then discovered that the Henderson family had nominated Ferrer for membership. The authors' efforts were suitably rewarded: on the sword was a faint inscription that read —J. N. Laffite (just the way the pirate himself spelled his name!

The book is available at Barnes and Nobles bookstores, and on the website:

Piano Recital April 11th

Entitled

“WILD AND CRAZY GUYS”

Don't let the outsides fool you; under those staid suits were talents that pushed the limits of 20th century music! Beautiful melodies—often with wicked harmonies—offer plenty of surprises for the listener. Pianist

Joyce O'Neal returns to the Community Room Kawai to play her fourth recital in Sherrills Ford, this one called “Wild and Crazy Guys.” Selections range from Brahms and Chopin to Shostakovich and Scharwenka, and not one of them is dull and boring!! The works themselves cover different piano styles from the 19th to the 21st centuries. Starting at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, April 11th, we hope you will come and experience an hour of “

Wait 'til you hear THIS!” piano.

Art Show by Students at Sherrills Ford Elementary School

FOSFTL sponsored our spring Art Show, which featured the works of Sherrills Ford Elementary students. It was on display at the library during March.

Thank you to art teacher Megan Maltby and the students for providing their artwork. Each piece of art was labeled with the artist's name and grade.

The three 2021-22 Art Shows were sponsored by Friends of SFTL, in partnership with the Catawba County Library System.

The Teen Zone had an inviting array of images at the door.

Hope you had a chance to view the works of these talented youngsters.

Sheep Do WHAT???????

The most recent Friendly Kraft 4 Kids project kit featured a sheep hand puppet. The some-assembly-required Kraft was made from a craft stick, construction paper, a chenille wire, and makeup removal pads! Instructions were included in the kit and the only supply needed was some glue.

This Kraft was designed to go along with the Nancy Shaw "sheep" series of books. They are available in Ebook or print form from the Catawba County Library system. These delightfully clever rhyming books have amazing illustrations and feature the zany antics of a herd of sheep. They are "In a Jeep", "Out to Eat" and "In a Shop" among other adventures. To date over 200 patrons have participated in taking home the Friendly Krafts 4 Kids kits.

Spring Returns and Normal's Almost Back, Too!!

Even though Daylight Saving Time has arrived, and it's SPRING, some evenings just cry out for a good book—and FOSFTL has plenty! Books on gardening, self-improvement, home decorating, fiber and wire crochet, crafts, and nearly everything in between!

Thrilled by thrillers? Just waiting for

Our children's books are the biggest bargains in town and these seem to just fly out the doors. WE ALWAYS need more! .

NEWS FLASH: FOUR BIG BOXES OF DVD'S WERE DONATED ON MONDAY, THE 28TH! Some are already out on the shelves and more will be out for sale very soon. COME IN AND EXPLORE!!

First Grade Literacy Program Update

Both Sherrills Ford Elementary and Catawba Elementary first graders have the opportunity to take home the classroom's copy of the intriguing books shown below. Barbara Nelson reports that four selections have already been distributed, and that there should be time for one final book before the school year ends.

The following books have been given during this school year:

October: Mctoad Mows Tiny Island,
by Tom Angleberger

November: Library Mouse: Home Sweet Home,
by Daniel Kirk

January: Doris the Bookasaurus,
by Diana Murray

March: Very Lulu, The (Mostly) True Story of a Training School Dropout, by Stephanie Campisi

The FOSFTL recognizes that the goal of promoting literacy cannot begin too young!

“No Stress” Chess Club Continues to Attract New Players; Meets Next on April 13th

New faces have been welcomed at nearly every meeting this year! Chess does not focus on winning, but it doesn't have to—chess wins fans for itself simply by being unpredictable. Our games don't always finish by closing time at 6:00 p.m., but the hour of concentration and comradery supplies a pleasant cap for a busy day.

New players—at all levels—are always welcome! Standard sets are provided, or you can play with vintage sets from around the world, or bring your own.

There is also a standard chess set at the library for anyone to use—just ask at the desk. The Library "No Stress" Chess Club, sponsored by the Friends of the Sherrills Ford-Terrell Library, will meet next on Wednesday, April 13th, at 5:00. We've been playing in the library proper, and we'd love to have you!

We would love for you to GET WITH

COMMITTEE!

Program Planning for Next Year (2022/2023) Is Underway

Stephanie Roberts and her committee are already up and running, with new ideas and fresh enthusiasm for next year (and for the rest of this season, too). They are very excited about actually being able to have in-person programs again!

The committee would love to have more people participate. If you are interested in helping out with programs; be it as small as helping set up for events or as large as heading up a specific program, please contact Stephanie Roberts at smtroberts1317@gmail.com.

Diane Chamberlain Event Rescheduled for May 17th!

We are pleased to announce that we have a new date for this postponed program; it will be held on Tuesday, May 17th, at the library. We will partner with Main Street Books in Davidson to sell books at the event. Ms. Chamberlain has published 31 novels (so far!) and is on the best-seller lists of the New York Times, USA Today, and the Sunday Times. Her 31st novel, THE LAST HOUSE ON THE STREET, was published on January 11, 2022

Registration details will be provided soon!

Re: Supply and Demand*

We have new baskets on display at the library (and posted on our social media accounts)—uplifting news for the almost-here Spring Season! Mary Young and her team saw the table emptied just a few days ago and stepped right up to restock.

Visit the library or check them out on Facebook..

*Demand ahead...

but Supply steps up to the plate,
and hits a homer!

If you would like to reserve a basket (or more!), tell the staff at the desk the basket ID number. The basket will be held for you for 5 days. Check Facebook often for our basket offerings!

Donations of new and nearly-new items, decorative or useful (or both), are always appreciated. Funds raised by both our basket and our Book Bonanza donations help support our ongoing literacy and cultural programs.
